1 Introduction

Household energy demand in the United Kingdom rose for three years.

2 Method

We fit a model to half hourly meter readings from 400 homes.

3 Results

The model beats the seasonal naive baseline by 14 percent.

4 Conclusion

A cheap model serves a household without a smart meter.